To Whom It May Concern:

Michael Naz and the Pro Business Group team have been working with our towing & collision repair company over the past 8 years. Successfully performing business Development strategies while managing our website and meticulously improving the quality of our lead generation.

Michael Naz and the Pro Business Group team has constantly increased our online traffic with search engine optimization and blog writing. Ultimately increasing traffic to our website, online bookings and phone calls to both sides of our businesses collision repair & towing. While managing various aspects of our IT software needs. Merging various industry related software to our website, while improving the customers online experience with spectacular website flow, user interface & user experience.

Micahel Naz and the Pro Business Group team also aided us with hiring strategies. Building online career portals, writing job ads, and posting our open positions on various job boards. These recruitment marketing techniques have produced a plethora of prescreened job applicants for us to pull from a database of candidates whenever we are in need of staff for various positions.

I would recommend Michael Naz and Pro Business Group Inc to any business searching for a highly focused and dedicated business development manager with a strong background with sales and marketing strategies.
